Thousands upon Thousands of Whigs in NEW YORK.

Tuesday, 22 inst. was a proud day for the Whigs of New York. The extensive preparatious made for the mighty Mass Meeting was only equalled by the Thousands and tens of Thousands assembled from City and County. Boston, Rhode Island, Connecticut and New Jersey sent their multitudinous NEW GOODS AND NEW FASHIONS. delegations from the river Counties. Georgeous banners floated in all the public places in the City. A mighty procession was formed and terminated its march at the Park and its gathering thousands found themselves in the area in front of the City Hall where three stands for Speakers had been erected-Cassius M. Clay was among the most distinguished and applauded Speakers.

Herald of Wednesday has a letter from a friend in Charlotte, Va., of the 9th inst, which the editors introduce to their readers as "very interesting;" it relates to the condition of the planters in consequence of three successive "bad years." The letter says:

"The sales of negroes continue at every Court day, and it is to be feared will continue for some time. 'As many as seventy were sold at the last Charlotte court, and I learn that a large number will be sold at Buckingham Court on Monday next. The public roads give evidence of numerous sales, and large gauges are wending their way to the South. I met a gang of seventy slaves on Thursday last, anotier of thirty, the day after, and on Sunday a third of twenty or thirty. A hundred in a single gang passed Charlotte court house two are three weeks since, bound to the South. I speak of what has passed under my own observatios. MARRIAGE IN High Life.—William M. Merrick, Esq., of Maryland, son of the Hon. William D. Merrick, U. S. Senator from that state was united in wedlork on last evening to Miss Wickliffe, one of the daughters of the Postmaster General. The nuptial ceremonies took place at the residence of the father of the bride, in this city, and were attended by a large party of invited friends—among whom were the Cabinet officers, the Mayor of Washington, officers of the Army and Navy, &c.—Washington Standard.

LATER FROM Buenos Ayres.—The barque Chancellor arrived at New York, on Sunday, from Buenos Ayres, which place she left on the 22d August. Capt. Beaunois states that when he left, things remained as per last accounts. The brig John N.
